

Research Engagement, Participation and Impact

Gain knowledge and skills to help maximise the impact of research in addressing issues of concern to the public, practitioners and policy-makers. This course will help you to engage critically with the latest theories about the relevance and application of research findings for decision-making.

Research Engagement, Participation and Impact

A short online course on research, seen from multiple perspectives and with maximum participation

This online course is designed for people in public or voluntary sector organisations that are, or aspire to become, research informed.

On successful completion of this course you will be able to conduct and use research collaboratively in order to promote change for better health, education or well-being.

The course can also be taken as part of the MSc Research for Public Policy and Practice.

Course tutor

Rebecca Rees rebecca.rees@ucl.ac.uk

Start date

September

Contact details

Email: eppitraining@ioe.ac.uk Tel: +44 (0) 20 7612 6271

About the IOE

The UCL Institute of Education (IOE) is ranked number one in the UK for education research. It is part of University College London and is located in the heart of central London. Founded in 1902, it is today recognised as one of the world's leading graduate schools of education and related social sciences and offers an unrivalled range of Masters and Doctoral degrees.

“The tutors were excellent. Always involved and summarising our discussions.”

Participant from 2013

“I would recommend this course to anyone who would like to know why user involvement in research is essential.”

Participant from 2008

Fees

From £670

<http://eppi.ioe.ac.uk/MSc/repi>

Contact us

Social Science Research Unit
UCL Institute of Education
University College London
18 Woburn Square
London WC1H 0NR

Tel: +44 (0)20 7612 6271

eppitraining@ioe.ac.uk